Same Subject (OL 7 5062)

1. In response to the referent, the following information is provided regarding future requirements for communications support for 1980 through 1984.

b. The prospect of obtaining additional space is poor at this time but there is a good possibility of acquiring space in the future if the moratorium on federal acquisition of leased property is lifted by GSA. At the present time, we have space requirements in the neighborhood of 85,000 square feet for which we would require a secure voice system similar to that installed in the [REDACTED] provided, of course, that the new building was located along [REDACTED]

2. Although the above items are only possibilities at this time, it is recommended that this information be provided to the Office of Communications for future planning purposes.
